Carry me Down

By the ocean I sat down one day Saw my life the other way
All those trials to no avail Broken dreams was all I gained

Well, when I was a child
They promised me a paradise Promises turned into lies Leaving us a world demise!

Way down, carry me down to the ocean of love

I asked for love, a golden cage
No emotions in this age
The pain I felt it wasn't real »The Earth!«, I cried:
My last appeal!

It's my turn to realize
To change the road, change the side Past has gone, rest in peace Goddess sows the seed

Way down …

Hold me in your arms Drown me in sweet moisture Lascivious fiery breath covering …
Your fangs softly penetrate
The pleasure and the pain Dissolving I discern:
I'm alive!

In dreams I died a thousand times
Then one dream: A golden shrine Whispered words soothed my grief
She's candour in a world of thieves

The call of the roaring sea
Fire burn inside of me
Wind take me to her shore
The Earth I am, for evermore!

Way down …

A midnight's dream disclosure Saw momentous desire
My life layed in your hands,
My confidence …
The background of reality
Just one step away
Am I to cross the frontier?
Am I to dare?

Alone again I cried
Amongst the debris of a dream
I had to face once more
The madness of love
But now that my Angel Received my yearning call
Her enchanting song
Will make my heart dance!

Gates of Paradise

»Where do I go now?« I inquired For I could not longer tell the way
This bane did leave me overtired Got punctured by preposterous ricochet

A camouflage of lack of faith:
The order of the senseless strikes again!
Words were spoken, lies were told My broken bones displayed in acid rain

Mission terminated while you wait
Her flowers burning in a blaze of rage
Another cardboard-box that stays unlaid I've had enough; I quit
No, I don't give a damn no more!

As autumn leaves do fall Anticipating rime to freeze my core Walking in the footsteps of the night Lost like a voiceless troubadour

Behold the yearning of your heart obtaining my love in a trice Come dry your tears:
Our life's about to start at the Gates of Paradise!

Paint the sky with stars and let us ride
With every raindrop my love pours on you Soaking wet but feeling warm inside
The sunlight radiates on mountain dew

Just for a moment I perceive A flying visit of those days gone by
And looking back I can't believe There had been times I wished that I could die!

Evening sun sets the lake on fire Dragonflies are hanging in the air
From afar the chanting of white friars
The altar of our love is everywhere!

Hold me in your arms tonight Promise me you'll never let me go!
Take my hand, we're out of sight
Escaping from this world's seraglio …

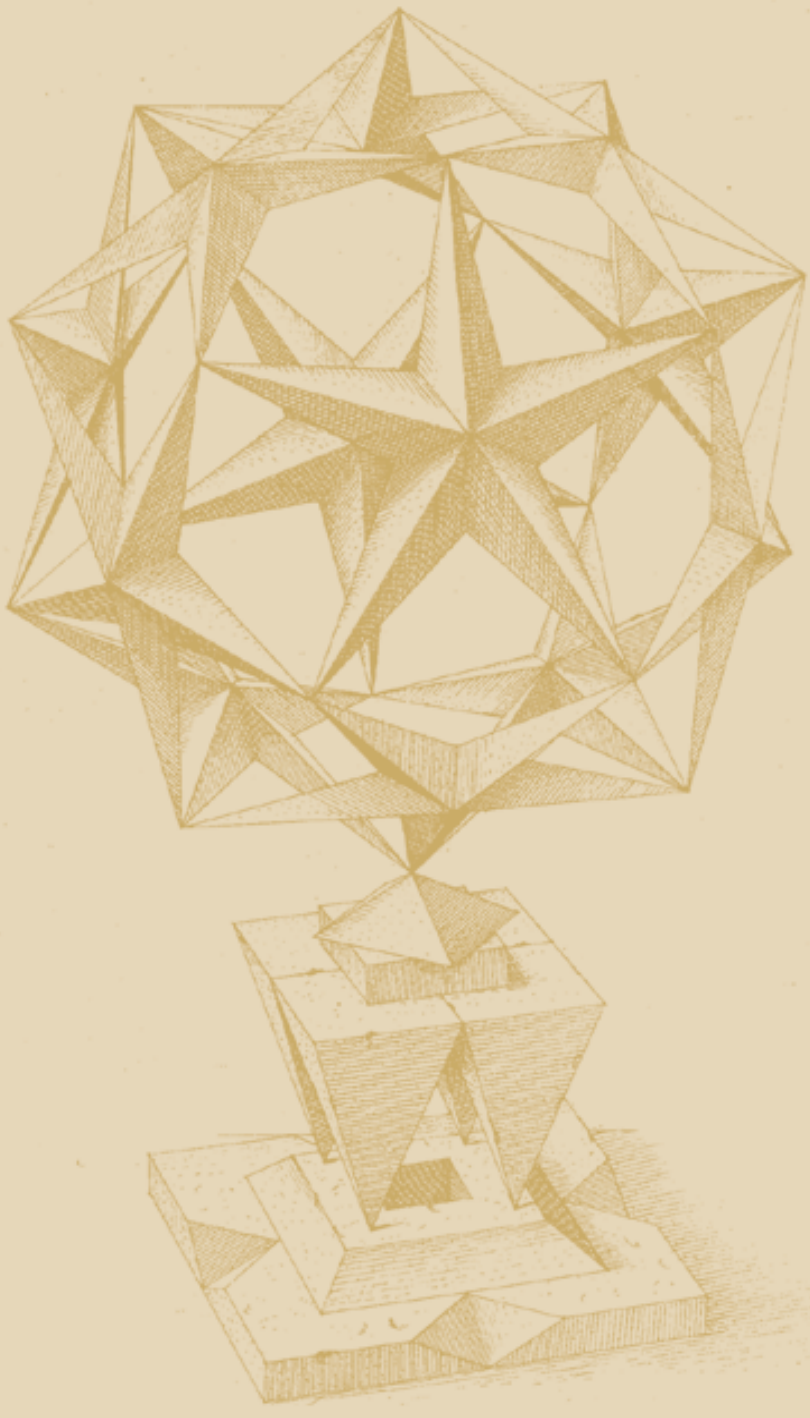

Hole in my Head

People who don't know their names lurking behind window frames Trying to control our lifes

Envy, spite and jealousy of all those longing to be free Stabbing them with hideous knives

Intolerance and arrogance combined with bloody ignorance Don't listen to a single word

Tired of their stupid lies, trickery and alibis Their issues are just too absurd

Don't you tell me not to grind
But I'm blinded by the thickness of mankind

Things are getting serious small minds become delirious Don't they see it's so insane

All obsessed with hate and war what else they think's worth fighting for Peek-A-Booh: A madman's game!

Pied piper's waiting at the door to tell them they're superior Dancing to his lethal tune

Oh, the crown of evolution needs some kind of revolution Otherwise it's over soon

So you tell me not to blow my fuse
But I'm quite aware of your abuse

Find shelter in my arms tonight There's only you and me and everything's allright
If there's just one thing that's true then it's my love for you I'll never let you go
And I don't care what they say As long as you stay in our love's afterglow

Still you believe it'll work out fine
While heading for the ultimate deadline

I got a hole in my head Seems like we're better off dead
We gotta find a solution
For this bitter contribution

Wasteland

(Lyrics by Dragonfly)

Longing for the one Who's gotta be out there somewhere
Far in Avalon
Where are you that for I dare?

Scratching at doors of hearts
Not even close to what I wish Too many times torn apart
Like it's so womanish

Waiting for the one and only soulmate
A life of love to create
Thousands of years ago
You were made for me, you know

No damn understanding Could you save me from this harm?
Sadness' so demanding
All my soul set on alarm

Running over quicksand Followed by the evil-eyed
But no chance for Wasteland
When our stars collide!

Waiting for the one and only soulmate
A life of love to create
Thousands of years ago
You were made for me, you know

Wasteland
Only one key to leave the Wasteland
Wasteland
Only one key to leave the Wasteland

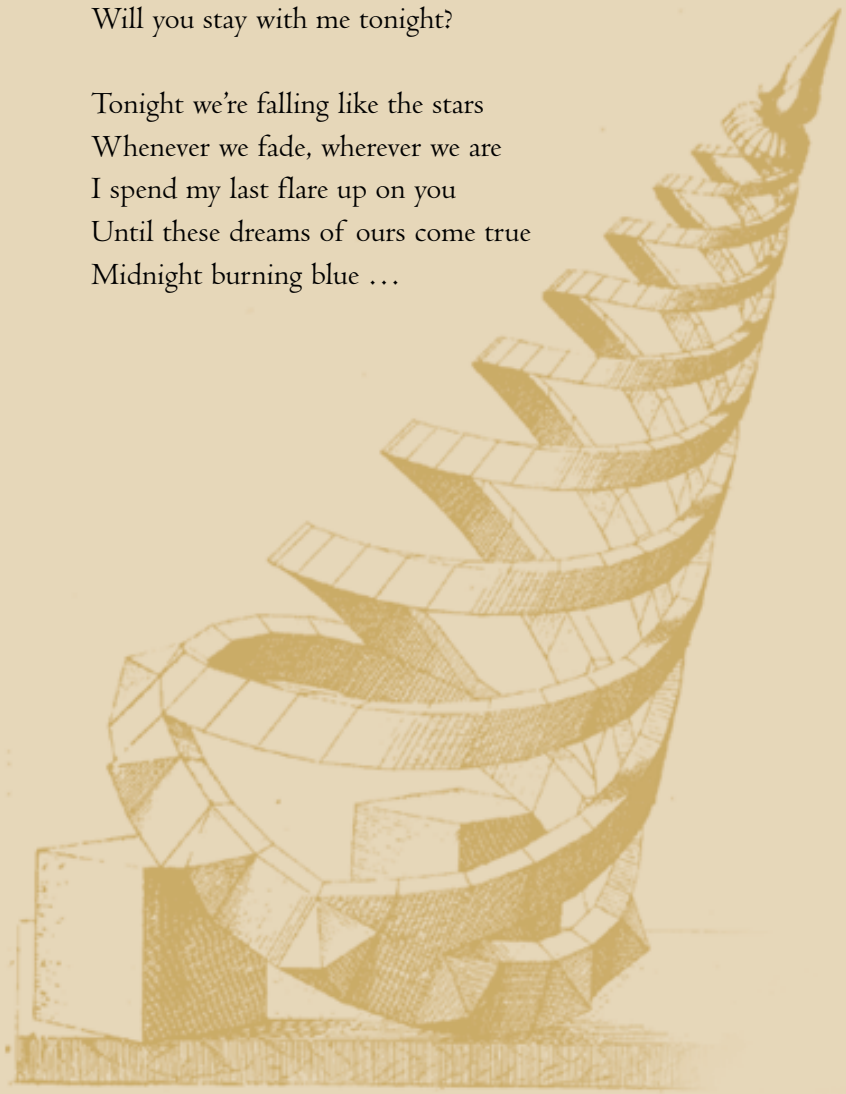

Like the Stars

So it was late that thursday night you were coming around His words a thorn in your flesh, your head a merry-go-round
We were talking side by side about the things that come and done and you began to realize that he was always on the run

In this black bedsit of yours, well it occured to me that I've known you for years, not just momentarily
And when you said you were tired, and your eyes filled with tears
I looked straight into your heart but where do we go from here?

And as we were stepping out After midnight
The silver lining of a cloud
Under starlight
For once again I felt alive
Will you stay with me tonight?

Tonight we're falling like the stars
Whenever we fade, wherever we are
I spend my last flare up on you
Until these dreams of ours come true
Midnight burning blue …

From the shore the ice cold wind blew hard into my face Rain was beating down, the past beginning to unlace Inside my soul felt warm, though the night was wet and cold
And as the storm arose I dreamt of being with you so close

I didn't know what you would do but I believed your aim was true the look in your face — some kind of strange witches' brew Waiting, anticipating your return Our love feels so strong and in this fire we will burn

A butterfly, fragile and cold
The breath of love
His wings beginning to unfold
Came from above
This time I know it is for real Let's touch the skies tonight!

Tonight we're falling like the stars
Whenever we fade, wherever we are
Until these dreams of ours come true
Midnight burning blue …

My Love, Angel and Light of my Life
I will stay forever by your side
Come to me when nights are cold I'll be there for you to hold Dive with me into the sea
Drown me in the water of love Sail with me between the stars
And love me, love me, love me till the end …

Something Inside

And still the seagulls fly under a leaden sky
As if nothing had changed and my life was still the same

No longer here with me
I watch the roaring sea I think of times gone by and how we used to laugh and cry

Now on my own again
A lonesome highway man throwing stones against the waves of time and cursing auld lang syne

But once the sun did shine upon the mountain thyme Wind caressed your hair and there was magic everywhere

Then rain came falling down and the red-painted town lost its colour and turned grey the day you went away

A lonely seagull flies as sunset sets the skies on fire but I don't care no more since my love went sore

If I had wings to fly
I guess that I would try flying faster than the speed of light to leave all this behind

What have I become?
Now the broken one running through the night just tryin' to keep the flame alight

Oh, gaels come carry me far across the sea where the angels lie amongst the placid fields of rye

Something inside
calls me tonight out on these bare hills again
Something inside
Wish I could hide from the pain

L'amore mia sempre é con te Nostra eternitá
Lei ci guarderá

We are the Witches

A gathering at night
A knock-knock on the door
Dressed in a red cloak
Her eyes gleaming with delight
The moment she's been waiting for has finally arrived
Her sister's waiting for her
While the stars are shining bright

Incubus and succubus
The evil foe has cursed on us and Demons rise on Hallowmass Oh, this devilishness …
A plague came over us again striking down my fellow-men

The priest became a scatterbrain
My word for it, Mister!

The churchyard
it came tumbling down
The king of kings:
A brainless clown
The prior stuck in the eiderdown
and I had to witness!

The piper played a dancing tune it all came out on Harvest Moon and altars staying unillumed women sinister!

Now that she's awake
She's ancing in the firelight
Her dragon's call resounds While the serpent's kiss ignites the fire of love
the dawning of a new day
Oh, sister of night
You're the light of the world

Spellbound they're screaming in the street How could we fall? Oh, this defeat …
The ruthless on the losing streak
We are so wasted!

So stupid that we did not see How those things should really be The eyesore of humanity a flawed mastermind!

What once seemed apprehensible has turned into dispensible because of being nonsensical
We should have been basted!

But now we've come to realize the senselessness of alibis and squander of self-sacrifice so deaf, dull and blind!

See, I am life
it's your birthright to walk proud and strong Dance with the tide
We've been there before And we shall return for now and evermore now and evermore …

Up on the hill she peers down by the sea she waits Her sisters gathering by her side until disturbance dies

It was another case of self-fulfilling prophecy Those faithful believers submerging in their agony

Did they really think their deeds justified abysmal greed ignoring all that human needs
A ploy of indulgence!

Insane with egomania vampires from Transylvania spiritual pyromania ashes to ashes …

Obsessed with their morbidity the morons of stupidity caused nothing but sheer faggery
A lack of common sense!

Their madness turned to matricide religious sort of cyanide
We salute your suicide:
Your kingdom crashes!

We are the flow, we are the ebb
We are the weavers, we are the web
We are the flow, we are the ebb
We are the witches back from the dead

Goodbye to Jane

See the girl on the floor as she's watching the rain like sallow tracks of blood running down Scattered over the floor the sheets painted in black showing a fettered, mouthless child Her mother's gone shopping and she prays for her daddy not to come home
But for Jane's prayers no god gives a damn:
Her daddy is back to play with Jane!

She closes her eyes to run away from the girl crying raped and abused on the ground No use to commit herself to anyone for who'd believe Jane?
She feels hate for being treated that way:
Is it her fault daddy's playing these games?
She tries in vain to think of something she might have done wrong

See the girl on the floor: She can't bear it no more Lewdy hands defiling her skin
A life like that means not much to Jane:
The belt round her neck gently takes her away Daddy's closing the door for she seems asleep Those sickening games won't be played any more!
No one could explain what happened to Jane:
She was only one of these silent girls …

Goodbye to Jane …
